REASON FOR REMOVAL OF WISDOM TEETH

PERIODONTAL DISEASE

Some patients may develop a serious gum condition if wisdom teeth are not removed. This damages the gums and can destroy the jaw bone. Bacteria may then spread and infect more teeth.

INFECTION

Bacteria can collect in difficult to clean areas that may cause infection.

PAIN

Pain is the most common symptom when wisdom teeth begin to erupt.

DECAY

Wisdom teeth can cause decay or resorption of neighboring teeth.

SINUS

Eruption of wisdom teeth may cause sinus pain, pressure and congestion.

IMPACTION

Impacted teeth do not have potential to erupt so you cannot use them to chew.

CROWDING

Permanent teeth may shift, undoing the effects of braces.

CYST OR TUMOR

A fluid filled cyst or tumor may form around untreated wisdom teeth. This can lead to more serious problems as it hollows out the jaw and damages surrounding nerves, teeth and other structures.

- The length of your procedure will depend on the degree of impaction, curvature of root and level of infection.
